APRIL BOOK CLUB
This month’s book is titled: Funny Cide by Sally Jenkins, 304 pages. “They had no business being there. They were up against million-dollar horses owned by patricians, oilmen, Arab sheiks, and Hollywood producers. They were ten regular guys, and all they wanted was to win a race. Instead, they won the hearts of America. In 2003, a three-year-old with the unlikely name of Funny Cide became “the people’s horse,” the unheralded New York-bred gelding who-in a time of war and economic jitters-inspired a nation by knocking off the champions and their millionaire owners and sweeping to the brink of the Triple Crown.” Source: goodreads.com. Pick up your copy after April 1 at the Waupun Senior Center office.
Optional Discussion: Friday, April 28 at 9:00am
